

World Rivers Day

World Rivers Day (Sunday, September 26) is a celebration of the world's waterways. It highlights the many values of rivers, strives to increase public awareness, and encourages the improved stewardship of rivers around the world. Celebrate your waterways today and every day by following local conservation guidelines to protect the water and surrounding riparian areas. For more information on how you can celebrate in September, visit <http://www.saskriverbasin.ca>

Did You Know that Beaver Creek is a tributary of the South Saskatchewan River?

Beaver Creek Conservation Area is a magical place that is home to a richness of wildlife including the beaver, muskrat, great blue heron and many other types of aquatic plants and creatures. Come explore the creek-side of things and the seasonal changes of Beaver Creek while adventuring on four unique hiking trails! Learn how you can get involved and become a steward of the Meewasin Valley and its waterways by visiting meewasin.com or scanning the QR code below.

Partners FOR the Saskatchewan
River Basin

Meewasin

Use your wild eyes to spy these aquatic plants and creatures while exploring the Meewasin Valley!

Can you get a Nature Bingo?

Creeping Spike Rush

Beaver

Mule Deer Track

Fathead Minnow

FREE SPACE

Sandbar Willow

Baltic Rush

Red-osier Dogwood

Muskrat

Please stay on the marked trails to protect the sensitive riparian habitat of the aquatic plants and creatures that make the riverbank and area their home.